

Mentor families

For families entering into a school district for the first time, it seems quite overwhelming the amount of information thrown at you in a short amount of time. In some cases, you just started a new job or have moved into a new community. What about the children? Here they are with all of these strange faces, a new teacher, and a new set of rules to learn?

Does it seem too overwhelming? Mentor families are here to help.

The purpose of mentor families is to match up newer families with those who have been at the school for a while to help the new families with the transition. Mentor families can help in many ways. They'll know the best restaurants in town. They can tell you about the volunteer opportunities in the school. Perhaps, their children are in the same grade and new friendships can be made.

Please take some time to answer the questions below. When you are done, please return them to the school office.

For new families (those who have been here fewer than two years)

Name of family: _____

Names and grades of children attending Saint Brigid: _____

Would you be interested having an existing school family contact you and meeting them so you can learn more about the school and/or Midland community: Yes No

If you said yes, is there a family that you may have met already that you want to be matched up with? Please list them here: _____

For established families (those who have been here for more than two years)

Name of family: _____

Names and grades of children attending Saint Brigid: _____

Would you be interested in helping a new family learn more about the school and/or Midland community: Yes No

If you said yes, is there a family that you may have met already that you want to be matched up with? Please list them here: _____